Foreword

Through this last year the growth of the Moses Lake school system has probably been felt more by its students than ever before in the town's history. Our new school, our new students—these things have contributed to making this previous year a success. We of the TYEE staff are presenting this book to you with hopes that it will be a constant reminder of the past year and all the cherished memories it held.

In Memoriam

OF

who was fatally injured in a construction accident while working as construction superintendent on the Moses Lake High School building. Mr. Taylor was an inspiration to his men; he didn't just tell them how he wanted a thing done but actually worked with them.

He was known throughout the community, and his death pressed heavily upon many a heart. We regret that Mr. Taylor could not be with us to see the doors open, but we rest assured that with men like Mr. Taylor we can always feel sure of building a bigger and better world in which to live.

Dedication

During the last four years we have all come to know a man who has given freely of his time and effort in order that we may always strive for a higher goal in education . . . Mr. C. B. McFadden. We all know Mr. McFadden as a strapping, good-natured man who is always working for the future of the Moses Lake schools and for better acquaintance between faculty and the students.

To Mr. McFadden who in his own words says, "Education is the most important business in the country . . . schools should have the best in equipment, buildings, and teachers for the safety and future of our country," we, the students of Moses Lake High School, dedicate this, our TYEE.

Senior Sneak

4:30 a. m., Friday, April 30. The sun has not yet risen to bestow upon a yawning group of students its comforting warmth. What are students doing out at this time of the morning, you ask? Have they just gotten up or are they just getting in? No, this is an intrepid group of cold, sleep-laden Seniors, 27 of them, plus two long suffering adults, off to beautiful Lake Coeur d'Alene for their SENIOR SNEAK. And how they snuck!! The only people who didn't know they were going was the junior class.

Office and

The center of school life is the office, "melting pot" for classes, faculty and anyone else who "muscles in." Several girls worked in the office this year, aiding Mr. Darnall, Mr. McFadden and Mrs. Henderson in their manifold tasks. Everyone who has connection with the office knows of the willing help given by the staff on any problem.

Taught Here—Five years
Degree—B.S. (Ed), U of Idaho
Subjects—Typing I, Typing II, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Journalism
Hobbies—Sports, Reading
Came From — Priest River, Idaho
Activities — Advisor, Girl's Club, Tri-Hi-Y, Pep Club, G. A. A., Chief Warwhoop, Tyee
Special Honor or Office—Chairman, County Commercial Contest

Commercial

One of the largest single departments in the school is Commercial. Here green students emerge at the end of the year as full-fledged typists, stenographers, bookkeepers and reporters, much to their surprise and that of their teacher, Miss Dorothy Crunk, whose image will always confront the student who strives for better things.

One of the chief projects of the commercial department is the yearly county commercial contest held in Ephrata near the end of the term. The commercial students always manage to cop at least one first place each year and often more.

And Girls

A late arrival to the faculty, Miss Cora Munzer, is the capable, well-poised girls' physical education instructor. A variety of girls' sports, as well as calisthenics and square dancing are taught in her classes.

Miss Munzer also heads the first-aid class, dubbed the "bandage-binders" by casual observers. Here students find pressure-points, treat shock and snake-bite, and trap anyone they can to practice on.

COACH ED PROFE

In his second year at Moses Lake, Coach Ed Profe spent many grueling evenings on the field to make a team out of his inexperienced players.

Former experience included coaching at a Long Island High School before going to Seattle to become assistant athletic director at the Athletic Club. While in the navy for 4 years as a physical education director he turned out two national swimming teams. He is also a member of the National Volleyball Association of Referees of which there are only 34 members in the United States.

Slim, athletic-looking, Coach Profe's own athletic prowess is not small. He won the award for the outstanding athlete at New York University in 1936-37 while he was a senior there. Liking most sports, Mr. Profe especially enjoys swimming and playing badminton and volleyball.

Grid Squad Changes Style

Shifting this year from the Notre Dame Box to the T formation, the Moses Lake grid team was much improved over last year's team, the first here since 1941. Lack of weight was the chief cause of switching to the T formation, which features use of deception instead of power.

Changing of formation, coming in of other players, and one year of experience contributed to doubling over last year of yardage gained both in air and on the ground. Games away from home gave the gridders the new experience of night games at Grand Coulee and Chelan.

Touchdowns in all but three games, including two in the Ephrata game, showed scoring power; but wrong strategy and wrong plays, due to inexperience, lost many touchdowns for the squad.

"To make a team to be proud of out of a few boys who had never played together before," was the task Coach Ray Darnall undertook at the first of the season due to the illness of Coach Ed Profe.

Before coming to Moses Lake in 1945, Mr. Darnall coached at Prescott. His team there won a position in the Southeast district tournament.

Mr. Darnall graduated from Eastern Washington College of Education before attending Washington State College. At Eastern Washington, where he majored in physical education, Mr. Darnall made his letter in basketball, which is his favorite sport.

Managers

Hard work and little glory go to the towel toters for the Chiefs. They hand out towels, keep the suits pressed and cleaned, and pack the suits and equipment for out-of-town games.

Leonard Dirks, freshman (on the right), was elected manager for this hoop season; Stanley Eccles, sophomore, assisted.

Chiefs Gain Top Trophy

Defeating Creston the first night, taking a bye the second, and defeating Odessa the last night, the Chiefs climaxed their hoop season by copping the first place Lions' Club trophy in the Invitational Tournament at Odessa March 4, 5, 6.

Two, Ray Swanson and Jerry Stimpson, from the Chief's quintet placed on the first all-star team, and two, Dick Christenson and Turner Kemp, on the second.

Chiefs Tip It In for Third

Going into the annual Grant County Tournament as the favorites because of an undefeated season in league play, the Chiefs were downed in their second game by a "red hot," aggressive Grand Coulee squad. The maroon and gold quintet then trimmed a powerful Hartline five to win the third-place trophy.

Turner Kemp placed on the first all-county five, and Ray Swanson and "Whitey" Willging, on the second.

This is the first time the tournament has been played in Moses Lake.

Little Chiefs

Winning 9 out of 13 games of the hoop season was the successful record the Little Chiefs basketeers chalked up.

Outstanding on the "B" squad were Lowell Davis, Chester Hitchcock, Roger Murdock, Stanley Caldwell, and Allan Garrett. "B" squad hoopsters put 339 points through the hoop to their opponents' 281.

A man-to-man style of play used by the Little Chiefs provided a tight defense against opponents.

Baseballers Enjoy League Play

Competing with dust, rain, and sometimes even hail, the Moses Lake sluggers had little practice but did well on the diamond in Grant County League play.

This is the first year Grant County teams have formed a league. It consists of six teams: Moses Lake, Quincy, Hartline, Wilson Creek, Grand Coulee, and Ephrata. Each team plays each other team once. Winner of the league represents the county at the district in Wenatchee.

This is the way you do it, girls.

Easy does it!

Girls Enjoy Play Days

More and more the fairer sex is taking part in the field of athletics. For the second year in succession, the sports-minded girls of Moses Lake High School were spring hostesses at a Grant County Play Day after attending one held in Ephrata early this fall.

The girls also have been active in a variety of sports including basketball, softball, volleyball, tenniquoits, badminton and variations of softball.

June Price forever yelling, "Help it over," Marilyn Johnson trying to jitterbug to the band's music, keeping track of the ball when Marjorie Bostick gives it a wild sock, and trying to understand why Betty Burress always serves the volleyball backwards instead of over the net are a few of the things that will stand out in the memories of all the girls who participated in the sports.

Law Legation

Here is the constant buzz of the cogs of the school's government. The student council, advised by Principal Ray Darnall, plans all student body affairs, one of the main ones being the national assemblies almost each month. One of their biggest headaches is to keep the Chiefs clothed, equipped, and cared for.

The council also pushes anything that spells fun or betterment for the students. One day they felt good and even paid for two busses to go to the basketball game in Hartline. Ruling officers of the council are the same as those of the student body and the members include a member of each class, club,and all other organizations in school.

Expressions of Note

Too many boys in the band were on the basketball, football and baseball teams, so the Chiefs fought this year without the triumph of a grand march. The band, under the direction of Mr. D. Donald Plumb, played for several public occasions, played over the air, and played for many of the school pep rallies.

Choral groups are the high school mixed chorus and the girls' quint trio. Mixed chorus and the trio made many public hearings, sang for P.-T.A., sang in the Music Festival, sang for private clubs and entertained the high school. The choral groups are also directed by Mr. Plumb.

Girls' and Boys' Combines

This year both of these organizations did not get started until very late in the year. The members include all the girls and all the boys in the high school interested in belonging. The Girls' League and the Boys' Federation both are so large that finding a place for all the members to meet presented a problem. The girls prepared a style parade but were forced to drop it when school was closed because of mud. The advisors for the Girls' Club are Miss Lillian Mattson and Miss Dorothy Crunk, and Boys' Club advisor is Mr. Charles Chamberlin.

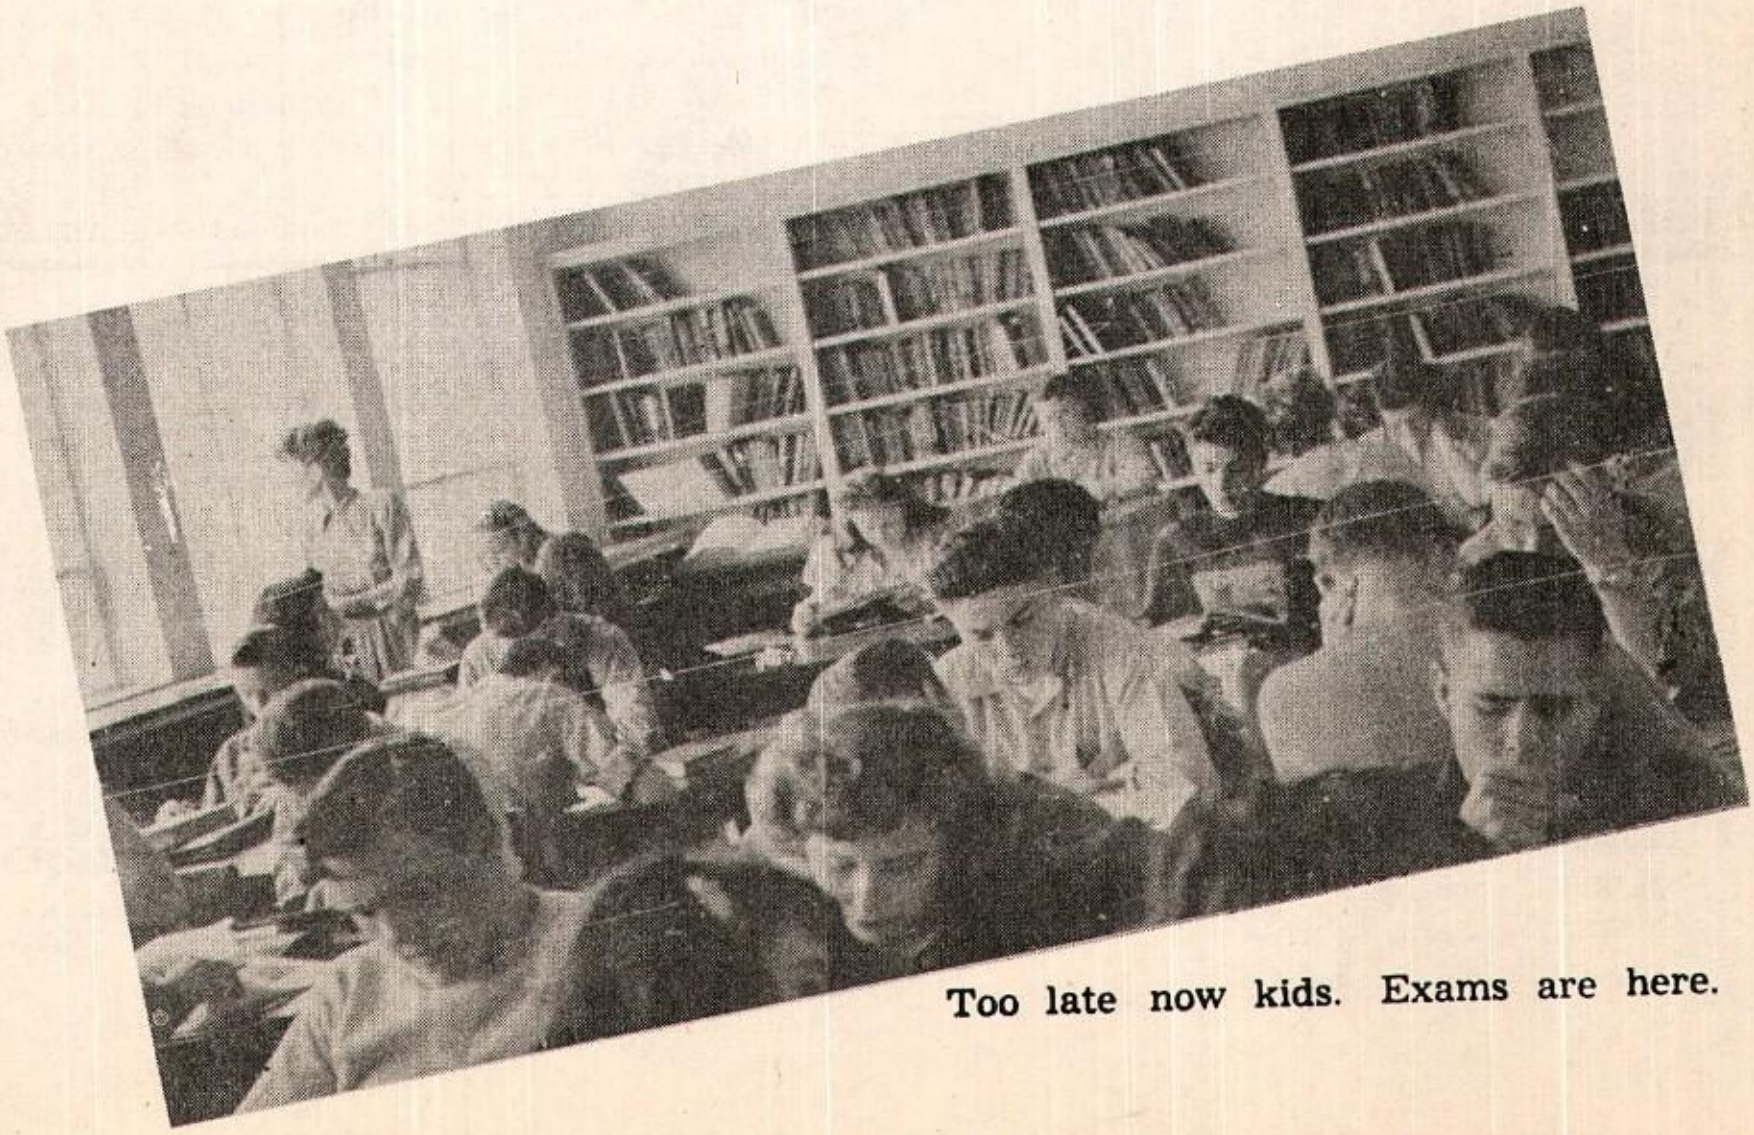
Source of Knowledge

"Your book is overdue," is the constant reminder of the librarians. Each of the six librarians spend a period of book dispensing and shelving each day in the library.

In the study hall the knowledge seekers of the school look for needed material and "cram" for that exam. It gets a bit crowded now and then but they don't complain.

The library has been under the advisorship of Mrs. Ruberta Sanford this semester, but during the first of the year it was handled by Miss Lillian Mattson.



Too late now kids. Exams are here.

Triangle Gals

To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of christian character—that's the motto of these Tri-Hi-Y gals in M.L.H.S., and everyone agrees they've done a fine job proving their motto.

They sponsored a Sucker Day on April Fools' Day this year, which is to be an annual affair.

With sleep-ladened eyes and new Easter bonnets the gals attend sunrise service each Easter.

Not only can they be lovely ladies—they can be as sporty as the rest of 'em. This was shown during the rodeo where they sold programs for the Rodeo Association.

The meetings are held at school and at different member's homes and entertainment is usually provided by members of the club.

The advisory board outside of school are: Mr. and Mrs. George Peters, Mr. Bryan Miller, Mrs. Lee Mott, Mr. Mel Zornes.

The school director is Miss Dorothy Crunk.

Suckers! Ah! yes, even Mr. Darnall eats them.

Checkin' up.

Triangle Guys

To do the best he can in speech, manner, study and in service to make life most worthwhile for himself and community—that is the ambition of of every Hi-Y member in M.L.H.S.

The "fellas" had a little trouble getting organized at the first of the year, so they haven't had much activity outside of their regular meetings.

The Hi-Y joins Tri-Hi-Y to sponsor an Easter Sunrise Service each year.

After the senior boys graduate, each boy sends a bid to one friend, allowing the club to keep a fairly large amount of members.

Mrs. Jerry Starr, Mr. Lee Mott, Mr. Clarence Blazer, Mr. Bryan Miller, and Mr. David Martin are members of the advisory board.

Faculty advisor is Mr. Carl Humphrey.

M Men

After working a complete season playing half of the quarters of the games, and withstanding the physical and mental torture (called initiation) condensed into one week, the boys are finally admitted to the Lettermen's Club. The club consists entirely of boys who have earned athletic awards in this high school. Their advisor is Mr. Ed Profe.

Initiation? A bit crowded isn't it?

Atta girl, Patt!

Twirling Teens

For a drill team, the high school salutes Patt Jones. The twirling team performed outside for football games and inside for basketball games. Patt, head majorette, couldn't find time for practice three times a week so she took the time during noon hours.

The big, little club. Helen Miller and Bette Saunders.

Pom-poms—Gotta get em out this afternoon.

Pep Presenters

Stemming from the Girls' League and supported by it, the Pep Club is an honorary and service organization of girls outstanding in service to the school. In display or this service, the girls wear pins and gold sweaters awarded to them by the Girls' League.

Their activities cover holding ropes for the basketball games, making pom-poms for games, and anything that might encourage pep and spirit in the school. Miss Dorothy Crunk is the advisor.

'Twas a sunny day.

Girls of Agility

A way for sports minded girls to expel excess energy with enenjoyable sure activities—this they found in G. A. A. After school ball games, hikes, boat rides, ice skating, and various other sports have been their activities for this school year. All high school girls are eligible to join the club.

Miss Mattson whips up some tasty tidings for the tummy.

Charmers...

"Won't you buy a hot dog?" "Wouldn't you like a box of Christmas cards?" These were two of the money raising projects sponsored by the girls of the Future Homemakers of America to get their newly organized club going.

Between ham roasts and cookie bakes, Miss Lillian Mattson, advisor for the club, and the girls have been planning and carrying out slumber parties, banquets and other activities.

In mid-January the club was joined by Barbara Anderson, from Lewis and Clark in Spokane, who had previously belonged to the Lewis and Clark chapter of F.H.A. Barbara is acting secretary for the state F.H.A., and with June Price and Miss Mattson was sent to Olympia as a representing committee from this chapter to the convention.

Wanda Hoffman acted as president for the club until Easter, at which time she dropped from school to become Mrs. Jack Alsup.

Chapter mother for the girls is Mrs. Marguerite Goodrich.

Got some money? Buy a Christmas card.

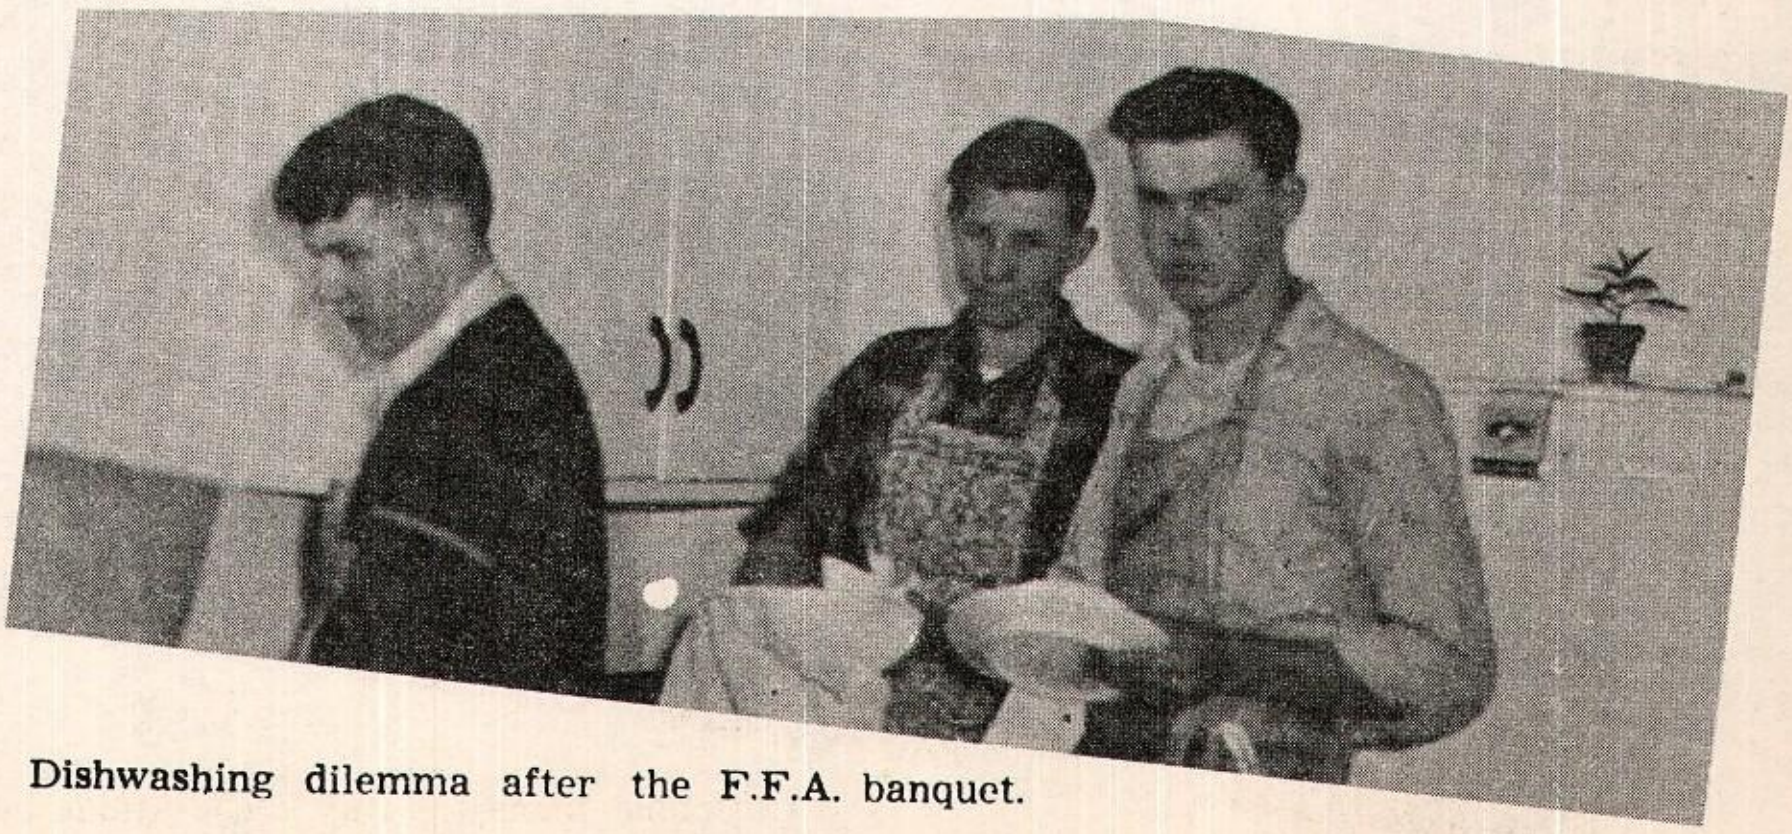
...and Farmers

Banquets galore, basketball and softball teams, and a radio program every two weeks—this is part of the routine carried on by the Future Farmers of America and their advisor Mr. Maurice Pearson.

With registered Hampshire swine to feed and five live steers to "beef," the boys have taken part in most every F.F.A. activity that came along. They sent a potato judging team to Pullman and took second place in the state at Ellensburg.

Stock judging teams traveled to Toppenish, Spokane and Yakima. They also had the honor of judging the Grant County Fair in Moses Lake.

Oh! yes, there's a big time operator in their midst, too. Don Goodwin, president, journeyed to the state convention in Pullman and came home with honors. He was elected to the state farmer degree and voted Star Farmer, of which there is just one in each state.



Dishwashing dilemma after the F.F.A. banquet.

Absent—Earl Morlan, Raymond Tainter.

Movie Makers

Dedicated to service to teachers, school and the community, the A. V. E. Club has grown into one of the larger organizations in the school. A. V. E., which means Audio Visual Education, shows movies on two sound motion picture machines, slide film strips, microprojectors and opaque projectors to classes and outside organizations.

Each member is assigned to show different movies to the classes by their advisor, Mr. Charles Chamberlin. A movie to show! It's wound wrong, the film strip is broken, where is Mr. Chamberlin? Woe to the movie producer!

Those projectors! Such complicated machinery.

Shutter Clickers

F-numbers, shutter speed, light readings, stop bath, hypo, developers, safelights—is this correct? All this was a steady rumble in the minds of Camera Club members. Working with the annual staff to produce pictures for the Tyee, the club was swamped towards the end of the year trying to hit deadlines. Time was spent hurrying to a well lighted scene to take a picture, and then hurrying into the dark room to develop it. Always a continual rush!

Forming a vocational type of club, the boys and girls, advised and aided by Mr. Charles Chamberlin, learn to handle different types of cameras, develop pictures, enlarge and color them. This year they took pictures for both high school and grade school, selling them to the students. Money received furnished materials and helped to equip the club better.

With the disappearance, during this year, of ink smudges on the nose, chin, and clothes, and the talk of letter guides, correction fluid, and deadlines, has also gone the six-sheet mimeographed paper, and in its place has come the four-page printed one with talk of print size, ads, and deadlines.

Tyee Builders

Learning to appreciate annuals, good and bad, as never before, to put out a better annual and still pay for it—these were the constant thoughts of the staff members. Learn about bleed shots, trim size, offset? Plan layouts, write copy, re-type—all this with a game to see? A dance to go to? It wasn't easy.

No matter how much planning and slaving was done out of school, everything still seemed to remain at the last minute. But with the help of the Camera Club and their advisor, Mr. Charles Chamberlin, Mr. Archie Trenner of the Basin Press, the staff's main wheel, Jim Spidell, and the spoke that kept the wheel rolling, Miss Dorothy Crunk, the Tyee staff succeeded in producing a well-rounded picture of this school year.
